

THE WHIG PLATFORM.

The Whigs of the United States, in Convention assembled, firmly adhering to the great conservative republican principles by which they are controlled and governed, and now, as ever, relying upon the intelligence of their capacity for self-government and their continued devotion to the constitution and the Union, do proclaim the following as the political sentiments and determinations for the establishment and maintenance of which their national organization as a party is effected:

1. The government of the United States is of a limited character, and it is confined to the exercise of powers expressly granted by the constitution, and such as may be necessary and proper for carrying the granted powers into full effect; and that all powers not thus granted or necessarily implied are expressly reserved to the States, respectively, and to the people.

2. The State governments should be held sacred in their reserved rights, and the general government sustained in its constitutional powers, and the Union should be revered and watched over as "the palladium of our liberties."

3. That, while struggling freedom everywhere enlists the warmest sympathy of the Whig party, we still adhere to the doctrine of the Father of his Country, as announced in his Farewell Address, of keeping ourselves free from all entangling alliances with foreign countries, and of never quitting our own to stand upon foreign ground. That our mission as a republic is not to propagate our opinions, or impose on other countries our form of government by artifice or force, but to teach by example, and show, by our success, moderation, and justice, the blessings of self-government and the advantages of free institutions.

4. That where the people make and control the government, they should obey its constitution, laws, and treaties, as they would retain their respect and the respect which they claim and will enforce from foreign powers.

5. Government should be conducted upon principles of the strictest economy, and revenue sufficient for the expenses thereof, in time of peace, ought to be mainly derived from a duty on imports, and not from direct taxes; and in levying such duties, sound policy requires a just discrimination, and protection from fraud by specific duties, when practicable, whereby suitable encouragement may be assured to American industry, equally to all classes and to all portions of the country.

6. The constitution vests in Congress the power to open and repair rivers, and remove obstructions from navigable rivers; and it is expedient that Congress should exercise that power, whenever such improvements are necessary for the common defense, or for the protection and facility of commerce with foreign nations or among the States; such improvements being, in every instance, national and general in their character.

7. The Federal and State governments are parts of one system, alike necessary for the common prosperity, peace, and security, and ought to be regarded alike with a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment. Respect for the authority of each, and acquiescence in the constitutional measures of each, are duties required by the plainest considerations of national, of State, and of individual welfare.

8. The series of acts of the 31st Congress commonly known as the Compromise or Adjustment (the act for the recovery of fugitives from labor included) are received and acquiesced in by the Whigs of the United States as a final settlement, in principle and substance, of the subjects to which they relate; and so far as these acts are concerned, we will maintain them, and insist on their strict enforcement, until time and experience shall demonstrate the necessity of further legislation to acquiesce in the evasion of the laws on the one hand, and the abuse of the powers on the other—not impairing their present efficiency to carry out the requirements of the constitution; and we deprecate all further agitation of the questions thus settled, as dangerous to our peace, and will discountenance all efforts to continue or renew such agitation, whenever, wherever, or however made; and we will maintain this settlement as essential to the nationality of the Whig party and the integrity of the Union.

President of the Whig National Convention.

Secretary of the Whig National Convention.

WHITEHURST'S GALLERY OF PREMIUM DAQUERROTYPE.

Over the store of Duval & Bro., between 4th and 5th streets, Pennsylvania avenue.

This establishment possesses many advantages over others in this city, being built expressly for Daquerrotype. It contains one of the finest skylights in this country, and the most complete and perfect arrangement of apparatus for taking pictures is taken at this establishment above all others.

There are now on exhibition some of the largest Daquerrotype pictures ever taken at this establishment, with a large collection of others, free to the public at all hours of the day.

Received the first medal at the late Fair of the Maryland Institute in 1850 and 1851, and a premium at the Great Exhibition at Castle Garden.

For sale, 20 cents a bottle, at the agency for Washington, D.C., No. 77 Main street, Richmond, Va.; Lynchburg, Va.; Norfolk, Va.; and Petersburg, Va.

TO HOUSEKEEPERS, LODGERS, &c.
TO MESSRS. CROMBIE & FAIRBROTHER—Sirs: I am now using the second bottle of your English Vermine-Destroyer, and think it my duty to inform you that wherever I have applied it, it has instantly and perfectly destroyed all vermin, and there is no indication of their return. I have tried several other remedies, but without any effect. I can with confidence recommend it to the public, as it is perfectly safe, and does not injure the property of the householder.

From J. W. Gregory, 61 East Broadway, New York.

TO MESSRS. CROMBIE & FAIRBROTHER—Gentlemen: I have given your English Vermine-Destroyer a thorough
